BASKETBALL NEWS

For the second consecutive season, the Chicago Bulls have reached postseason play by clinching a spot in the SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament. Chicago currently sits as the No. 9 seed in the Eastern Conference and will face the Atlanta Hawks in the opening stage of the tournament. The hosting team will be finalized over the last three games of the regular season.

During the 2022-23 Play-In Tournament, the Bulls earned a 109-105 road win over the Toronto Raptors behind 39 points from Zach LaVine, 23 points from DeMar DeRozan, and a double-double from Nikola Vučević, before falling to the Miami Heat, 91-102, in a closely contested Play-In finale.

ABULLS LOVE STORY

Last Friday, Vic and Bex Pellicano took to the hardwood to renew their vows. The Pellicano's are 8-year season ticker holder's and Bulls super fans. When they got married in 2014 the budget was tight, and they celebrated with just a few close friends. Vic always knew that they would celebrate their love in a big and meaningful way in the future, but he never could have imagined a Bulls center court ceremony with over 200 of their friends and family present. What a win for love!
