Stockton Kings Prepare to be Bigger Than Basketball for Opening Night Against Salt Lake City Stars

Plans to Announce New Partnership and Community Activation at Halftime

Stockton, CA. – On Nov. 10, the Stockton Kings, the NBA G League affiliate of the Sacramento Kings, will host the Salt Lake City Stars to kick off the 2022-23 season. A halftime announcement will spotlight their newest partner, Midgley’s Public House, and the upcoming community activation project, Dine with the Kings: Past, Present and Future.

As a Stockton Kings partner, Midgley’s Public House will be catering Dine with the Kings: Past, Present and Future, scheduled for Nov. 19 at the Stockton Arena. One can enjoy the catered meal while sitting next to Sacramento Kings legends, current Sacramento Kings players, and the future of Sacramento - Stockton Kings players. The entirety of proceeds will go towards enhancing the lives of Stockton children through care packages that contain a variety of daily necessities.

“This upcoming season is filled with over 20 home games and an endless commitment to bettering the Stockton Community. We thank both our fans and partners because the change and excitement we aspire to create would not be possible without them,” said Stockton Kings Vice President of Business Operations Aaron Morales.

Opening night will be a time to celebrate the commencement of the 2022-23 season and serve as a reminder of how the Stockton Kings continue the commitment to be bigger than basketball.

For more information on the 2022-23 season presented by Kaiser Permanente or Dine with the Kings: Past, Present and Future, please join the Stockton Kings for opening night or visit their website at StocktonKings.com
